NEW AIRPORT SITE — City fathers are visualizing a new lighted and paved runway at the Cameron airport pictured above. At present the location, north of Cameron, is covered with grass, shrubs, weeds, and has a rough terrace. Councilmen have been working several months on the airport project and this week were encouraged by Frank W. Raymond, Director Texas Aeronautic Commission when he said "It could be the best investment you've ever made".

Cameron Offices, Business Houses To Close Monday

City, county, state, and federal offices along with many business houses will be closed Monday, July 5, in observance of Independence Day.

Cameron banks announced closing following action by the legislature which set aside Monday to be observed as a holiday, according to Mrs. Barbara Smitherman, CofC Manager.

In a poll taken by the Chamber of Commerce the July 5 observance was not designated as a holiday. However, since the banks have announced closing, many other retail and wholesale firms have joined in the observance.

Offices in the city hall, court house, utility companies, post office and other federal and state offices will be closed, officials said.

The Cameron Retail Merchants Association met Tuesday and members voted to close Monday in accordance with the Independence Day observance.

TAC Head Says Funds Available Under New Law

Councilmen and interested citizens were told Monday that Cameron can make application for State aid in financing the proposed Cameron aiprort in addition to the federal grant they have already been allocated.

Frank W. Raymond, Director of the Texas Aeronautic Commission, speaking at a noon luncheon at the Western Room, said an ideal way for construction of an airport is to match federal - state and local funds.

He cited State Rep. Milton Schiller who introduced the airport aid bill to the Legislature. This bill authorized the State Aeronautics Commission to loan funds to small towns and cities under 25,000 population for airport construction or improvement. Gov. John Connally signed the bill May 19.

Mayor Bassel Wilson said Tuesday the council plans to make application for state aid. The airport project has already received approval of federal aid in the amount of $25,000. The city had planned to set aside the other $25,000 for the new $50,000 airport.

LOWER INVESTMENT

Raymond said with 50 per cent federal aid and 25 per cent state aid, the local investment would be much smaller. Most of the local cost share could come in the form of use of available county and city equipment and manpower to do the necessary dirt work.

"This area can have a new airport, if everything works out, for very few tax dollars", Raymond said.

The Mayor said the federal aid grant will be in force until October 1 and that plans must get underway by that time in order to receive the federal aid.

Airport plans which have been set up and approved include the purchase of needed land to extend the runway, paving and lighting, windcone, taxi ways from the runway to the hangar, turn-arounds at each end of the runway and in front of the hangar.

ATTRACT INDUSTRY

Raymond said today industry is decentralizing. Of all the new plant locations in the last decade more than half have gone to small communities. In 1962, nine out of ten went to small communities.

Ten years ago only one-third of

Reservations Now Being Accepted T&C Booth Space

Town and Country Fair officials announce that reservations are now being taken for commercial booth space for inside as well as outside exhibits. Priority will be given business firms who held booths during last year's fair.

Deadline for taking advantage of this priority will be July 15. After this date all other requests received prior to the July 15 date or after will be assigned on a first come first serve basis. Forms for space and other related information are available at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Monroe Fuchs, director for the Fair stated, "I would like to remind all interested persons that we have extended the dates of the Fair to cover three days instead of two as has been done in the past. All special activities for stage performances will be held in the late afternoons with stationary exhibits being open to the public all day."

A downtown parade will be part of the opening activities August 5 with Dick Wyatt in charge.

Cooperation Urged In City Safety, Beautification Plan

The Street Dept. and Safety Division of the City of Cameron are appealing for cooperation from the public and property owners to help in correcting hazardous conditions that exist in the city.

J. B. Earle Street Supt. said Tuesday that blind intersections and vision obstructions on streets and traffic signs are making hazardous driving conditions. Debris is obstructing proper drainage in city systems.

Untrimmed shrubbery and tree sprouts were credited for much of the hazardous conditions.

"We are stressing every effort possible to keep our street appearance and safety factor for the public at a high standard", Earle said. "This is not only being done for ourselves, but for the thousands of tourists passing and stopping in our city's business district and recreation parks", he continued.

"We may prevent an accident, or a life, by trimming our shrubs and sprouts growing around the low limbs of our beautiful shade trees. This will open vision to our street and traffic signs and blind intersections", Earle said.

Keeping debris and trash from gutters, drain ditches, culverts and culvert pipes, will be a great help in maintaining the watershed for a fast runoff. It will also be instrumental in making the mosquito control more effective.

The Cameron Street and Sanitation force has been increased to help overcome the problems within the city, the Street Supt. said.

"With a helping hand, we feel that our job will be more effective. In behalf of the department we will do anything possible to do a better job in making Cameron a better place to live," Earle added.

Commissioners OK Watershed

County Commissioners have unanimously approved a watershed proposal and entered into agreement with the Soil Conservation Service and Watershed Authority to maintain dam sites and channel improvements in Milam County.

The approval came last week when officials of the Elm Creek, Pond Creek and Brushy Creek Watersheds and other interested parties appeared before the Commissioners Court.

E. A. Perrin, Elm Creek Watershed secretary, said the next phase of the plan will be to make application for a government loan. They presently have $35,000 on hand for the Elm Creek Watershed project which will cost $150,000.

"This is just local money, the federal government will spend approximately 4 million in addition to the $150,000", Perrin said.

Appearing before the commissioners were Buster Griffin, chairman of the Elm Creek Watershed, Perrin, Gilbert Kretschmar, head of State Soil Conservation program of Temple; Mr. Carter, Supervisor of Austin Soil Conservation Dept. George Marks, Supervisor, Temple Area; Carl Young, Temple, and members of the Elm Creek Watershed. Also, Jim Goad, representative of Pond Creek Watershed, Mr. Snyder Taylor representative for Brushy Creek Watershed.

Perrin noted that 23 structures are proposed in Bell County and 16 in Milam County under the Elm Creek Watershed project. "There will be no dams in the low waters of the creek itself, Perrin explained, "the main stream of the creek bed is not dammed but the tributaries going into the main stream will be dammed", he continued.

Programs of maintenance of water control structures have already been endorsed by Falls and Bell County Commissioners.

Perrin said the watershed projects will control 85 per cent of Elm Creek and Pond Creek overflow which covers agriculture, stock losses, fences as well as road damage.

Friesenhahn New Penney Co. Head

Jerome C. Friesenhahn, formerly department manager at Victoria, has been promoted to manager of the J. C. Penney Company store at Cameron, the company announced.

Friesenhahn will succeed Bill Tolson at the local store. Tolson has been promoted to manager of the New Braunfels store. He assumed his new duties there last Friday.

A graduate of Durhams Business College, Friesenhahn joined the Company in 1950 as a salesman in New Braunfels. He was successively promoted to department trainee in 1956 and department manager at Victoria in 1963.

A native of New Braunfels, Friesenhahn, his wife Shirley Mae, and son Brian Dwayne will move to Cameron as soon as housing is available. His appointment was effective June 25.

Tolson has been with the J. C. Penney store for 18 years, serving as manager of the local store for five years. A native of Mexia, he came here from Lake Charles, La.

While in Cameron he was active in civic, church and school work. He was a retiring director of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, Sunday School teacher in the First Baptist Church, member of the Lions Club Yoe Booster Club director, headed the Salvation Army Fund drive and was presently chairman of the local Salvation Army unit. Tolson also served on many fund drives promoted by various organizations.

His wife, Doxie, three daughters, Debbie, Robin and Sherri, will be moving to New Braunfels as soon as possible.

Foundation By-Laws Adopted Tuesday

Directors of the Cameron Industrial Foundation adopted by-laws Tuesday in a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The by-laws, as changed and approved, will set the governing elements under which the foundation will be operated.

A publicity program was set and will be launched as soon as changes in the by-laws are completed, according to foundation directors. At that time all the phases of the Industrial Foundation will be presented to the public, President Narvie Caperton said.

Vice President Bob Wells outlined ways in which industrial prospects could be handled and reported on progress now underway in attracting new industry to Cameron.

The Pavilion's Pageantry ....

Governors Orate There

By Frank M. Luecke

ED's NOTE: When you next approach Cameron's Park Pavilion, whether by car or afoot, give your imagination loose rein, remembering some 75 years of drama, frolic and even tragedy this 19th Century structure witnessed.

This story is one of series on historic structures in Cameron.

You walk up the grey, board steps of the Pavilion, look into its open emptiness where reunions now clan on a summer Sunday, and face the tall, sturdy pecans.

Cameron Park Pavilion . . . 75 Years Old

You could, with fiery imagination, be Jim Hogg, Texas gubernatorial candidate, calling down a youthful heckler perched in one tall tree yelling "sowee" above the heads of a throng of 5,000. He stood there, that day in 1892, debating with George Clark, his opponent, the question of regulating railroads, a question his successful campaign settled with Texas' first railroad commission.

'PASS THE BISCUITS'

You could, with folksy recall, be W. Lee "Pappy" O'Daniel, his "Doughboys" behind him, cajoling another great crowd for votes. He, too, stood there, almost 50 years later, "rendering" Western tunes and continuing his sweep toward the Governor's Mansion in 1938.

You could, if you listened in the "wend" of local history, hear the crowd's approval of the Shakespearean's reading, or the aria of a traveling diva's coloratura, or the magician's patter amidst his sleight-of-hand. And these echoes would waft from the tented Red Path Horner Chautaqua, drifting from the north end of the Park when the Pavilion was dark, those early years before World War I.

And you could, with gaze penetrating its wood walls, see sweating evangelists exhort an oft-filled tabernacle of a curious, oft penitent thousand citians. You would be looking south, during those "Roaring 20's," where now a li-new industrial plants located in small towns outside metropolitan areas. The shift has come from high cost metropolitan centers to smaller communities where the operating cost burden is not so great, he said.

"Most of these industrial plants went to small communities with airports", Raymond said.

Towns with airports attract industry mainly because business representatives can fly in to plants for inspections and orders and fly out again. The time element is essential.

US ECONOMY

Well equipped airports can mean more business and possibly future expansions. An extended plant would mean more jobs, more payrolls, he added.

He cited a town of similar size to Cameron, when after an airport was built, several industries located in an industrial park next door to its airport. The town built an airport for $100,000 but it didn't cost the town and county $100,000. The federal government paid 50 percent and provided skilled planning engineers to help. The state government paid 25 percent. That left the town paying $25,000.

"Town leaders reported they got their $25,000 investment back in the first year in new plant locations. In that town business on the retail basis has been increasing 15 per cent each year", Raymond reported.

brary is to be built, and where once was held a barbecue of true Texas proportions, pits wide as a rail span, a hundred feet long, quarter beefs arched over railroad ties and turned by pitchfork, sizzling for a forgotten host of people on a forgotten occasion.

These things, these bygone things, you could sense if you stood for an imaginative gaze from this shingle topped octagon, new newly roofed, but quaintly carved with initials of youngsters now old. And you would know, still, that the kid swinging on a rope from a tall tree nearby is much like the kid who climbed that tree 75 years ago and razzed a future governor.

SKATE AND WALTZ

You might sidle down a step or two and turn to see skaters at Century's turn circling within that Pavilion or watch couples whirling to the waltz of an orchestra. And you would, like those youngsters, see a gay Pavilion indeed. You could hear the "oampah and baroom" of a shirt-sleeved hometown band, in that day when Yoe High School was still unbuilt and band music, like fire protection, was voluntary.

And if you wanted a daytime swim, you could almost dive off the back of the building into Cameron's first swimming pool, concreted and fenced, later closed following a tragic drowning one night in the late '20's.

And you could wonder rightly, how long the ground on which this Pavilion still stands, hosted the exuberance of Cameron children and the orderly pleasures of their parents before it was built. Cameron's John B. Henderson, whose recall of these facts is vivid, suggests the land likely served this community as a park since a few years after the Civil War.

Henderson believes the 2.48 acres was quit claimed to the city sometime in 1890 by W. S. G. Wilson and wife, Lizzie B. Wilson, expressly to provide the Pavilion platform for the Hogg-Clark debate. It must have been important. The Dallas Morning News sent a reporter to cover the event, believed to be the first time the North Texas daily carried a Cameron dateline on a political rally.

Henderson's father, T. S. Henderson, introduced Hogg. And W. T. "Bill" Hefley, also of Cameron, introduced Clark. And thus Cameron officially was introduced to the capacities of its Park Pavilion.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS

Some years later, some Cameron ladies organized a Civic League and planted shrubs and had filled in "an obnoxious, unsightly stream branch" which gaped into the large area where the swimming pool, now filled in, was built. Its concrete outline still is evident in the shadow of the Pavilion.

To the south, where the Hamm-Ramsey Tabernacle once stood and the open-trench barbecue was held, the land now divided by four lanes of US 77 was once owned by Idella Green, who sold it to the City.

If you envisaged this land even before the Civil War, where the Pavilion stands, you might see settlers riding upon this promonitory, halted by the stream flowing from springs which onetime must have surfaced there. Well before which it rang and the generation that listened, Indians may have camped there.

You would know, however, perhaps 50 years later, that the old Pavilion is still in demand, that reunion organizers reserve its custom a year in advance of use, simply because it is used that much.

NEW EQUIPMENT

You would also note new playground equipment for kids to play on and climb about, requiring less risk than the tree climb for that young heckler, who "aped" Hogg and stirred a crowd standing, by best estimate, as the largest to look upon any speaker in this old town's history.

And you would have to wonder why there are so few pavilions like this one, testifying to age and agelessness, to a stage of sideboards painted white, of plank steps painted greatly, steps you ascend to quaint history and descend to modern perspective.

IMPROVEMENTS CONTINUE — Cameron street improvement work continues as workers prepare and surface East 22nd street for future paving. Action by street employees was also in full swing on East 7th and 8th streets.

July 4th Events Set In Cameron

Cameron and Milam County will enjoy a quiet, but fun filled July 4th weekend in observation of the 189th year of thisi country's Independence.

Activities are set at the Junior Chamber of Commerce's Carnival and at the Cameron Country Club.

Still, many others will find their way to their favorite fishing, boating, swimming and picnicing places.

Highway Patrolman Leroy Broadus reminds residents that quirement will have it in the near future.

heavy traffic conditions will exist over the long holiday weekend.

"The violations of the state laws are the usual cause for accidents and the state expects a large death toll during the July 4th weekend," Broadus said.

He urged countians to drive with care, if they must get out on the highways. "Milam County has a real good record so far this year, with only one fatality, and let's keep it that way," he said.

For those staying in Cameron and wishing to celebrate on the holiday, the Jaycee Carnival will be open beginning at 1 p.m. Games rides, food and a dance will be held at the National Guard Armory.

For the golf bug, there will be a golf tournament at the Cameron Country Club. They also have scheduled a pitching contest and putting contest.

Swimmers will want to compete in the diving and swimming contest planned at the CCC while others enjoy bridge games. A barbecue is planned and the traditional fireworks display will be held that evening.

The City Park, with it's new playground equipment, will be a likely spot for the out-door type who like to picnic. A large crowd of swimmers are also expected at the Cameron swimming pool.

Heavy Rains Leave Area Lawns Spotted With Fungi

Lawn disease problems have increased in several areas of the state due to heavy rains and cooler weather.

Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist, Texas A&M University reports that brown patch specimens and leaf spotting organizms have been causing much of the damage.

Brown patch and leaf spotting are both caused by fungi. Lawn control can be most successful when perventive measures are taken against these microbes, according to Horne.

Building up a thatch of fallen grass clippings should be avoided This material becomes colonized by micro-organisms that may affect the grass under certain enviromental conditions.

The grass should be kept in watering and fertilization. Watering should be done early enough in the day to allow the grass to dry by nightfall. A damp condition favors the fugi.

A protective fungicide such as zineb can be applied if leaf spot becomes a problem. It should be used at regular intervals according to the manufacturer's recommendations.

If brown patch has been a probelm in the past, a fungicide can be applied one to two weeks prior to the usual time it occurs. Horne recommends Terraclor, Actidione RZ, Ortto's Lawn Disease Control or other similar materials for this application

Horne also reports that some petunia specimens have been affected by a damping off fungus this year. Damping off is similar to root rot and occurs in young plants.

The micro-organism causing the disease builds up in the soil and can be removed by a soil sterilant type chemical such as Vapam or VPM. If no living plants are growing in the beds the soil sterilant can be used to control weed seed, fungi, bacteria and nematodes. Seeds or transplants can be replace idn two or three weeks after treatment.

Some material can be applied in the form of a drench around living plants if control measures are preferred after plants are established.

Horne says the local county agricultural agent can be contacted for more information concerning the control of lawn and flower diseases.

Pony Teams Seek More Competition

By L. E. Sapp

Cameron's two Pony League teams are looking for competition.

Many of the boys have been training for years coming up from the Minor League, into the Little League, and now into the Pony League.

And now these seasoned players are having trouble finding competition. They are a group 28 strong.

"We are trying to find some games and have been making contacts to play some teams from Temple", Coach Nubby Moore said Tuesday. No varification there yet.

Why are they having trouble finding competitors? It might be said they have grown in experience to where small teams of the area feel they are not competitive.

Early in the season they tried to get into two leagues of the area, but were turned down because of their experience.

There is no bitterness in this rejection. But that doesn't alter the fact that they would like to play the sport in which they have been working hard to learn, and learn well.

Thus far they have been able to play our neighboring Rogers team, a group of outsiders made up of Yoe High graduates and a team composed of Little League coaches and managers.

This has kept them in fair shape, but the competitive spirit is not the same.

Where do they go next. Saturday night they play the coaches and managers again.

Still, they are trying to find outside competition.

Last year the larger group of players made up the Mustang team and placed second in the Bell-Milam Pony League. They lost only one of their players.

Back from last year are Wayne Kirk, Mike Miller, A. Hefft, Charles Maddox, Johnny McLerran, Glen Fogle, Cotton Bryant, Ray Urban and David Barrett. Other team members are Jim Lafferty, Bobby Dorner and Cruz Reyes.

The younger Pony League Team is composed of Charles McAtee, Damon Corano, John Hairston, Dennis Crouch, Butch Bryan, Ramon Ramirez, John Urban, Joe Rivera, Horace White, Larry Garrett, Marvin Young, Fred Reed, Robert Kopriva, David Garrett, Henry Thibodeaux and Dale Lafferty.

Foreign Language Courses Offered, Open July 15th

Foreign language courses will be offered this summer in Cameron under the auspices of the Marak Cultural Movement.

The language courses which include Czech, German and French will be offered to children 6 - 14 years, teenagers 14 - 20 and adults of any age. There will be no charge for these instructions, according to Rev. George Bonhard who will instruct the courses. Classes will be held July 15 through August 23.

Applications with name, address, age, phone number and the language course desired are to be sent to Rev. Bonhard at Route 2, Buckholts. The applicant should also include which days of the week, two hour period, they wish to attend, the most convenient time and whether you wish to attend morning, afternoon or evening classes. Classes will meet twice weekly.

Rev. Bonhard said that he is offering these courses due to the fact that almost all of the four-year colleges and universities require that students have at least two years of foreign language before receiving their degree. These colleges which do not have this re-

"Most institutions require at least 12 hours of foreign language for a Bachelor of Arts degree and require at least a written knowledge of a foreign language.

These four girls will be Seniors at Yoe High School next year and are seventeen years old. They have formed a corporation and will share jobs in order to make their 'pocket money'.

Girls presently in the baby sitting corporation are Gloria Mayer, Jane Conley, Margaret Kestenbaum and Lynda Bowen. Reservations for one of the baby sitters can be made by calling Miss Kestenbaum at OX-3095.

Adults Bad Example At LL Games; Stir Parents Concern

Do grownups set a poor example?

With the baseball season well underway many parents are concerned about the effect participation in this program will eventually have upon their youngsters. They want their children to participate. Still many refuse because they fear the outcome.

One of these concerned Cameron parents asked The Herald to print an article written by Mrs. Carrol Thickett of Bellmead. With her permission, we are happy to print the following article:

"Little League baseball is one of the finest methods ever devised to help teach youth of the nation to play our national game and to learn sportsmanship.

"Unfortunately, in many cases the goals and lofty ideals are forgotten in the heat of competition.

"The tragic part of the situation is the fact that the youngsters work hard to learn, but the grownups set a poor example.

"Some managers argue with the umpires, protest games and accept decisions with bad grace in front of their teams.

"This has an effect on the youngsters. They miss the lesson that no matter whether you play ball or participate in any other activity, there are rules that must be followed and authority that must be accepted.

Much more tragic are the examples of those parents who come to the games and lose all sense of sportsmanship. They root for their son's team and often become abusive when the umpires make a decision against their team. Since the boys have been taught to respect their parents, they accept their parents' views that the umpire is against them and that they can't expect a fair deal.

"The tragedy is that these same parents who enrolled their youngsters in Little League to learn sportsmanship are the biggest influence against their learning these principles.

"Certainly the managers and parents do not always agree with every decision the umpires make, nor do the umpires always make the right decisions.

"Yet, it is a game designed to teach the boys the right principles and these principles should be put ahead of a victory or loss on the field."

—MURRAY GO ROUND—

By Tom Murray

NOTES, QUOTES:

TCU's Abe Martin, college football's answer to Jed Clampitt of the Beverly Hillbillies says he is agin' limiting SWC scholarships. "The way I feel about it," he told the press, "if Texas can afford to take 50 or 60 freshmen and educate them, that's just that many more boys who can get an education." ... One Kooky Los Angeles Angel pitcher said, "I'm the greatest 60-foot shot-putter in baseball. If I could conquer those last six inches, I'd be on my way."

Did you know that Tim Mara, founder of the New York Giant NFL football team made his money as a bookmaker?...The Green Bay Packers are owned by a nonprofit community group in that Wisconsin Hamlet...Betcha' didn't know Erskin Caldwell, the Tobacco Road and God's Little Acre author, was a pro football star at Wilkes Barre 40 years ago... The Rev. Bob Richards pockets $100,000 per year for selling Wheaties on Television.

One Miami writer on Alabama Bear Bryant's handling of critics: "He stares down most of 'em and sees the others"...Some student football managers who made good: Douglas McArthur (West Point '03), Herbert Hoover, (Stanford '95), and C. Douglas Dillon, (Harvard '31).

AND, MORE:

"I don't particularly want to be another Cary Grant," said handsome young screen star James Garner as he completed 18 holes at Hollywood's BelAir C.C., "I'd rather be another Jack Nicklaus." His score? A three-under par 69... When Sammy Baugh coached the miserable AFL N.Y. Titans he scolded a back for outrunning blockers. "Just play like you do in practice, son, loaf a little," advised football coaching's Marco Polo.

An old quote by Houston Astro G.M. Paul Richards is still a gem. Before the Houston Club went to their first draft to buy all those original bodies they would soon dispose of, Richards told writers: "The guys we're going to get aren't playing, they're sitting back there in the shade."...Detroit First Baseman Norm Cash, on major league players: "We're like cattle...get fat and off you go...to slaughter."

After one horrendous rain fell in the Maryland-North Carolina game, Tom Nugent was moved to say: "It was so muddy that when I went to congratulate the North Carolina players after the game I discovered they were mine.

Crop Outlook Termed "Good"

Crops in Milam County are in relatively good condition considering the April hails, floods and insects that hit the area ths year, according to Alva Sanders, Agriculture Stabilization Conservation Service.

Truck farmer crops, such as tomatoes, cantaloupes and watermellons are short and late this season. Many potato crops have been completely destroyed, Sanders said.

The cantaloupe crop is ready to come in, but in many sections of the county have been his by rust and will be below par, one farmer noted.

Tomatoes are coming in mostly from the Milano-Gause area. In many instances the crop has been replanted three and four times, Sanders said.

The ASC head said about 75 to 80 per cent of the Milam cotton crop that was flooded has been replanted and will make a late crop.

"Moisture conditions are good and there is good underground seasoning, farmers are spraying for insects", Sanders said. "It is usually true that cotton planted in June doesn't do as well as cotton planted earlier, but there is a slight possibility that it could be better", he added.

Grain crops are also reported in good shape and inch of moisture would be helpful now.

Peanut crops look like thay are doing pretty well, Sanders related. About 95 percent of the crop will be planted by the first of July in the sandy land around Minerva and Rcokdale. The crop will be ready in Sept. and Oct.

PRE-REGISTRATION OF STUDENTS IN Cameron Independent School District FALL OF 1965

Pre-registration of pupils planning to enroll in any grade in the Cameron Independent School District for the fall 1965 Semester will take place for a period of three (3) days, from August 2, 1965 through August 4, 1965. Under policies adopted by the Board of Education, parents or guardians may register pupils during this period at the school of their choice. At the time of pre-registration a choice may be expressed for either the nearest formerly Negro school or the nearest formerly white school. In the event of overcrowding, preference will be given without regard to race to those choosing the school who reside closest to it. Those whose choices are rejected because of overcrowding will be notified and permitted to make an effective choice of a formerly Negro or formerly white school.

The choice is granted to the parent or guardian and the child. Teachers, principals and other school personnel are not permitted to advise, recommend or otherwise influence the decision. Nor will school personnel either favor or penalize children because of the choice made.

Children not pre-registered on August 2, 3, 4, 1965, may be registered at the school of their choice on the three (3) days immediately prior to the opening of schools for the fall 1965 semester, but first preference in choice of school will be given to those who pre-register.

Annually after 1965, similar practices will be followed with respect to registering and enrolling pupils.

Mrs. David Vandiver

Ceremony Unites Binion - Wilson

Mr. and Mrs. David Vandiver Wilson are honeymooning at the historic country home, near Jasper, of Congressman and Mrs. Jack Brooks, brother-in-law of the groom. They were married Saturday evening in the Memorial Drive Methodist Church, Houston.

The bride is the former Miss Emma Lee Binion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayte Binion Jr., Houston. She attended Southwestern University where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and will attend the University of Houston this fall.

The bride's gown was ivory silk organza over taffeta, designed with oval neckline, elbow length sleeves, fitted waistline and A-line skirt. Re-embroidered Alencon lace formed a deep border of applique around the hemline. Matching lace defined the waistline where the cascading chapel length train attached.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiny pearl and crystal crown. Twin orchids centered the bridal bouquet of stephanotis combined with cascading English ivy interspersed with small white rosebuds.

Miss Emily Griffin of Katy was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Tommy Lynn Lucan of Pasadena, Misses Valerie Gordon, Jane Wheat and Caroie Dengler, all of Beaumont. Attendants were gowned like in soft pink crepe formal length sheaths. They carried bouquets of harmonizing summer flowers combined with cascading English ivy.

Ushers were Frank Wilson brother of the groom, Fort Worth; Clayte Binion III, brother of the bride, Fort Worth, Lt. (j.g.) Jack R. Low Calorie Peanut Process For Today's Weight Watchers

COLLEGE STATION

Peanut fanciers with weight problems got good news recently from Sec. of Agri. Orville L. Freeman. He announced that U.S. Dept. of Agriculture research workers have developed a process which puts peanuts in a much lower calorie group.

The process, developed at the Southern Utilization Research Laboratory, New Orleans, makes possible the removal of 80 percent of the oil and ¾ of the calories but leaves intact the peanut's original good flavor and high protein content.

When the new product goes into commercial production, the Secretary said it should open up new markets for peanut growers, whose production has been increasing faster than consumption.

The procedure is simple. Shelled nuts are brought to a proper moisture content and pressed in a hydraulic press to remove most of the oil, which constitutes about 50 percent of the peanut's weight.

The pressed kernels are flat and misshapen, but they return to their original shape and size when soaked in water. Salt, sugar, spices or other flavorings can be added during this reconstitution period.

After the low-calorie nuts are dried, they are ready for eating as is, for roasting or for use in candies and other foods.

Exploratory studies at New Orleans, the Secretary added, have shown that the same process might be used to produce low-calorie pecans, walnuts, almonds, Brazil nuts, chestnuts, cashew and other nut meats.

Sec. Freeman added that the research which developed the new process is part of the Department's continuing program to develop new and explained uses for farm products.

Early Soil Tests Advised For Fall Planting

COLLEGE STATION--Soil samples should be collected now and submitted for testing in preparation for fall planting, advises C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist, Texas A&M University.

Early soil sampling and testign is encouraged to avoid the fall rush that crowds the state's three testing laboratories. Also, early sampling is important if lime is needed. Since lime reacts over a long period of time, it is important, explains Welch, to make the needed application two to four lime, and that it should be applied before fall plantings are made.

For information on soil testing and instructions on collecting samples and mailing them, Welch suggests a visit with the local county agicultural agent.

County Agent's Notes

Prennial Query Plagues Agent

By J. D. Moore

Two difficult questions, 'How to control nutgrass" and "How to get borers out of trees," are perennial questions.

We are reminded of a story concerning a "not to well versed" pioneer preacher. He was not a student of theology and made the mistake of letting his congregation ask questions at the end of and during his sermons. On one occasion after two or three questions had been fired at the preacher he replied, "It is questions like these that make preaching so hard."

We will discuss the hard question first - How to control nut grass? and is the material selective? Methylarsonate compounds are used primarily for control of weedy grasses. Amine Methylarsonate (AMA) comes in liquid form, while disodium methylarsonate (DSMA) is available in liquid, wettable powder and granular forms. One pint of the material in four gallons of water will treat 1000 square feet. Follow manufacturers direction.) A surfactant or wetting agent may increase discoloration on lawn grass, but it will make the treatment more effective. Use household detergent or commercial wetting agent at the rate of 1 teaspoon of liquid material or 3 tablespoons of dry material per gallon of chemical and water mixture.

Apply the DSMA, wetting agent, water mixture as a spray or mop to thoroughly wet the stems and leaves of weedy grasses. Weedy grasses to be treated should be mower 3 to 4 days before treatment. Treated areas should not be mowed or watered within 48 hours after application of the chemical.

"Is the DSMA selective?" This material will cause some discoloration on Bermuda grass, but it usually disappears in 7 to 14 days. The material KILLS St. Augustine grass, but small spots killed by spot treatment should be covered by new growth in 4 to 6 weeks.

CAUTION- The methylarsonate compounds contain arsenic which is poisonous. Avoid skin contact with the material and breathing the spray mist. Keep the material out of reach of children and domestic animals.

A leaflet, L-425, Chemical Weed Control in Lawns, is available at the county agent's office.

How to keep borers out of trees? Borers in trees are the results of eggs hatching after being deposited by a moth during summer months. Make two applications, one in June and the second in mid-August. Use 1½ lbs. of actual Dieldrin per 100 gallons of water 3 tablespoons to 1 gallon of water). Spray the trunk and limbs of trees to run-off point.

NUTRITION

Nutritionally, milk and milk products provide 28 per cent of the nation's essential food nutrients. This includes 23-26 percent of the caloires requirements of American families; 40-45 percent of their protein; 65-75 per cent of their calcium; 59-76 percent of their riboflavin; 35-39 percent of their vitamin A; 18-19 percent of their thiamin and 5-6 percent of their iron and niacin. And all this, says A. M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist, Texas A&M University, for only slightly more than 19 cents out of each dollar spent for food.

ADV.
WHAT IS THE
RIGHT TO WORK LAW?
(SEC. 14-B)

The so-called right-to-work law does not give anyone the right to work but only gives an employee the right to work in a Union Shop without being a member of the Union. This in itself would not be so bad except that the same law gives the Non-Union member the rights to all Union won benefits without having to pay dues which means that the Union is required to spend money on the Non-Union member while he does not have to pay any costs to defray expenses.

In a great many locals if an employee does not agree with Labor Unions for religious reasons, he is then permitted to give his dues to a Charity of his choice. Also in some of our Contracts there is an Agency Shop Clause which permits the employee to pay dues but still not belong to a Union; however, this is a violation of the State law in Texas.

The agreement that this Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley law gives anyone the right to work and that this is safeguarding the basic freedom of working men is a misnomer. THE LAW WAS ONLY DESIGNED TO HURT LABOR UNIONS.

The law, however, does give the minority of people a veto vote over the majority. Let us suppose the majority of the people in a city voted a bond issue and the citizens who voted against the issue did not have to pay the increased taxes. There is no doubt that the City Governments would soon fold up under a system such as that.

We respectfully ask all the citizens who do not believe in this injustice to write to their Senator and Congressmen and ask for the Repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley law.

A Battle Organization Wins . . .

The Cameron Industrial Foundation approved its by-laws, which soon will be published for Cameron's information.

And efforts toward filing for a state grant for the airport, hopefully to be available with local and federal funds for completion of a expansion program at Cameron Municipal Airport.

Those who see little need for such expansion should have heard Frank Raymond, head of the Texas Aeronautics Commission, explain how Midwestern small towns have capitalized on airport development for industrial growth. Twenty-six community leaders did.

Discussion continues heavy on finding the solution to a thorough downtown improvement program, which when properly framed, will be as important to industrial development as industry itself.

These three projects carry the weight of public interest in Cameron's future, which with successful completion of a downtown improvement program, a better airport and an active industrial foundation, should bring Cameron full circle into the battle of the 1960's, a battle of small-town survival and growth, a battle that organization is winning in towns across the state.

Happy Taxpayers . . . .

In Hamlet's opinion, conscience makes cowards of us all, but when it comes to paying income taxes, the knowledge that returns may be run through a computer seems to do it better than conscience.

That is a conclusion one could draw from a report by the Internal Revenue Service that for the first time a majority of taxpayers' mathematical errors are running in favor of the government rather than the taxpayers.

This situation is the reverse of what it has been in the past. Heretofore, most mathematical errors resulted in taxpayers being told they owed more money. But in the first three months of this year, 368,000 lower-income taxpayers received refunds because they overestimated their tax, while only 108,000 had to pay more because of their errors.

Think of the joy that must have surged in the hearts of those 368,000 when they learned their good fortune. The IRS must know that almost certainly in many places of this broad land it has friends.

Accidental Death Alert Starts Friday For July Fourth Holiday

AUSTIN

The Texas Safety Association today issued its annual "Accidental Death Alert" for the July 4th holiday period and called on Texans to put safety first in all activities.

"Holidays can be a time to remember, or a time of tragedy," S. Ross Carr of Houston, TSA President said. "It often depends on knowing and using your safety rules - whether you are driving on the highways, spending the weekend at the lake or just relaxing at home."

The TSA "Accidental Death Alert" begins at 12:01 a.m. Friday and ends at 11:59 p.m. Sunday. It coincides with the Dept. of Public Safety's traffic accident watch - "Operation Motorcide."

The Association is coordinating its traffic safety program with the DPS and other state agencies Subject for the TSA safety promotion is "Courtesy and Caution."

"Adding courtesy to caution, can take you a long way in traffic. Your attitude about your driving and that of other drivers has a profound effect on the possibilities of your being involved in an accident," Carr said.

"Treat other drivers the way you want to be treated -- with courtesy."

In addition to issuing traffic warnings, the Association has urged care in recreational activities, expecially those associated with water.

In concluding, Carr stated that each year many lives are lost during holidays simply because people put away their safety rules for the occasion.

Redistricting To Face Courts

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Two of the three redistricting plans passed by the last Legislature soon will come under courtroom attacks.

In a legislative redistricting case in Houston, motions will be filed asking that the new play for dividing Texas into 150 districts for the House of Representatives be declared unconstitutional.

State Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. has announced that the Harris County plaintiffs in the Congressional redistricting case, headed by George Bush, will drop out of active roles in the case because that county was treated fairly in the redistricting plan.

But the Republicans plan to bring in new plaintiffs from Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, Midland, Ector, Jefferson, Orange and Brazoria Counties to try to convince the three-judge federal court in Houston that the new law violates several apportionment principles.

On legislative redistricting, State Reps. Jake Johnson of San Antonio and Robert C. Eckhardt of Houston, who joined in the suit which led to present reapportionment procedures being declared unconstitutional, will ask the court to say that the new plan violates the U.S. Constitution, too.

Main atack is expected to be purely on the question of whether county-wide districts with more than one legislator serve to discriminate against minority racial and political groups.

No attack is expected on the plan passed to divide the Texas Senate into 31 new districts.

AUTO RATES TO GO UP - A State Insurance Board public hearing confirmed the earlier warning that auto insurance rates will go up an average of some 13.4 per cent on August 1.

Actually, new rates for property damage, liability and collision lines carried by most motorists will be increased more than 20 per cent in most areas.

A rising toll from traffic accidents is blamed for the hike.

Insured drivers paid $404,000,000 in premiums last year against $198,000,000 settled by companies on claims. Another $16,000,000 in pay-outs is pending. Board decides premiums should go up when more than 63 cents of the premium dollar goes to pay claims and adjustment costs.

BUILDING, SALES DOWN - Texas building and retail sales dropped off in May, according to UT's Bureau of Business Research.

Sales fell off about one per cent from the April level, in contrast to a normal seasonal gain of about three per cent. The January-May total is four per cent above the same period for 1964 but has not kept pace with the nationwide increase. Trade is expected to improve with repeal of federal excise taxes.

Building authorizations decreased 13 per cent last month to the second-lowest level in the last 12 months.

AG SPEAKS - Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that San Marcos Consolidated Independent School District cannot use Martindale District tax assessments for 1965, though the districts have consolidated. All property throughout the district must be assessed at an equal and uniform rate, Carr concluded.

In other opinions, the attorney general ruled:

Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner may not approve a credit union as a depository for other credit unions;

Dallas County Junior College may contract with the county tax-assessor-collector to assess and collect its ad valorem taxes; and

In time of national emergency, the governor has authority to direct implementation of the emergency resources management plan, to order state agencies to assume their repsonsibilities and to create a "state executive reserve."

APPOINTMENTS - Gov. John Connally has named Dist. Atty. Edwin F. Berliner of El Paso to the new 171st District Court, which goes into operation on Septembe.

1. He appointed W. Barton Boling, El Paso lawyer, to succeed Berliner as district attorney.

Connally appointed Garrett Morris, Fort Worth attorney and insurance executive, to Texas Public Safety Commission to succeed Jake Jacobsen, Austin attorney who recently joined President Johnson's staff. Morris is a native of Nocona.

Commission establishes plans and policies for Dept. of Public Safety, state lawenforcement agency.

UT LANDS LEASED - University of Texas leased 47,014 acres of land for $10,106,030 at the 50th public auction of oil and gas leases.

Active bids were drawn on 159 of 167 tracts offered. All leases were made for five-year terms and a one-sixth royalty on mineral production. Highest and second highest bids - $260,000 and $225,000 - were on 320 acre tracts in Ward County.

Receipts from auction will swell the Permanent University Fund to over $442,030 Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said.

JULY 4 TOLL WARNING - Homer Garrison, Dept. of Public Safety Director, estimates that 31 persons will die in Texas Traffic Accidents during the 3-day July 4 holiday.

DPS plans maximum enforcement with additional personnel from other uniformed services to augment the regular Highway Patrol.

"Operation Motorcide," a DPS-directed coordinated effort among state agencies to reduce traffic accidents, will focus public attention on added dangers of holiday travel.

Excise Tax Reductions, Changes Announced, Already In Effect

AUSTIN

The Excise Tax Reduction Act of 1965, approved by the President on June 21, 1965, repeals certain excise taxes effective June 22, 1965, and makes other important changes, according to R. L. (Bob) Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue here.

The following taxes are repealed outright on sales made on or after June 22, 1965:

1. The retailers excise taxes on jewelry, furs, toilet peprarations, luggage, handbags, etc.

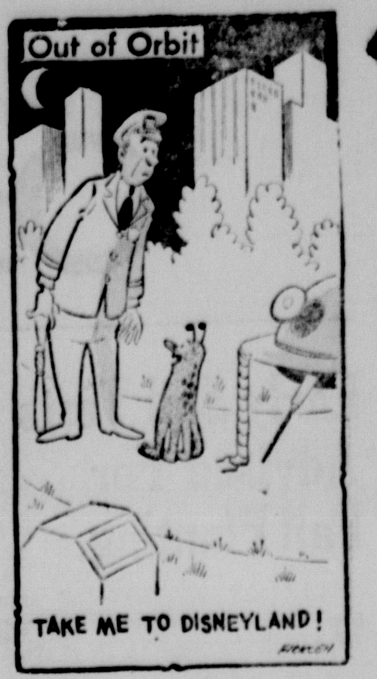
2. The manufacturers excise taxes on refrigerators, freezers, self-contained air-conditioning units, electric, gas and oil appliances, radios, TV sets, phonographs, phonograph records, musical instruments, sporting goods (except fishing equipment), cameras, lenses, film and projectors, business machines, mechanical pens and pencils, lighters and matches.

Also, the Act repeals the tax on the use of safe deposit boxes, effective for periods of use beginning on or after July 1, 1965.

Taxpayers who, because of the repeal of one or more of these taxes, are no longer required to file Forms 720 for calendar quarters beginning on and after July 1, 1965,, should write "final return" at the top of the excise tax return for the quarter ending June 30, 1965, due on or before July 31, 1965, so that their names can be removed from the IRS mailing list.

The Act also repealed the special occupational taxes on bowling alleys, billiard or pool tables, and coin operated amusement devices (but not gaming devices) effective July 1, 1965.

Other changes made by the Act include graduated rate reductions of the tax on passenger automobiles, and repeal of other taxes on Dec. 31, 1965, or Jan. 1, 1966. In addition, the Act provides for retroactive refunds to May 15, 1965, of the tax on air-conditioners and passenger automobiles, and for floor-stocks refunds of manufacturers taxes based on inventories of tax-paid articles held by dealers on the day after enactment of the Act.



OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

When it comes to understanding the problem in Viet Nam, I leave the job to smarter people than me who have a lot more facts, and when one President after another from both parties says it's important that we keep on doing whatever it is we're doing over there, I don't argue.

Maybe I ought to be ashamed to admit it, but news from Viet Nam to me in my ignorance is as baffling as a report on a national golf tournament. I see the headlines but the names are beyond me because I don't keep up with golf. I'm worse on geography, and I don't know any more about Viet Nam than I do Brooklyn.

But I did run across one small fact about the place the other day and I've been thinking.

According to this article, there are places in Viet Nam where the normal rainfall in November is 29 inches. That's right, twenty-nine inches. It slacks off to eleven inches in August and thirteen in September, with scattered showers and thundershowers throughout the rest of the year, except for a few months when it dries up and the temperature gets unbearable. In the months when it rains every afternoon, everything bogs down, too wet to plow or drive a tank.

Now I'll tell you, a country's in bad shape when it has to plant a crop and fight a war in between showers.

I know the free world has got to take a stand against Communist dictatorship, but it sure is unfortunate we couldn't have found a drier spot to do it on.

On the other hand, think what a snap a weather forecaster has over there. One of the few places on earth where, when he predicts rain, it rains every time.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

The Rev. J. B. Perkins of Houston is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart this week. He is preaching the revival messages at the Baptist Church which will continue through Sunday night July 4. Services are each night at 8 p.m. on the church lawn and morning services are at 10 a.m. each day Monday through Friday. Rev. Perkins is a former pastor of this church.

Work on repairing the large bridge on the San Gabriel River below the Worley and Linke farms was finally completed Friday and the road is now open to traffic after 5 months of being closed.

Patricia and Morris Simank and baby son of Milwaukee, Wisconsin arrived here this past weekend to spend a two week vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holder and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Simank in Thorndale.

Opal and Dimp Seaton of Houston spent from Sunday until Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heisch. On Monday they all went to visit Mrs. Heisch's and Mrs. Seaton's sister, Miss Ossie Carroll.

Weekend and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart were Carlene and Bobby Evans of College Station, Mary Margaret and Kenny Sinclair of Austin and Miss Susan Thompson, of Austin.

Lucy and Frank Ditmore of Dallas spent Friday night with her mother, Mrs. Andrew Garner, enroute to Gallup, New Mexico where they will be stationed for the next two months. Frank is an auditor for the U.S. Government.

Graveside rites for Dr. B. R. Hennes of Jacksonville, Alabama were conducted at the Locklin cemetery at 2 p.m. Monday by the Rev. W. R. Parmer. Dr. Lennes was the brother-in-law of Mrs. Weldon Gilchrist and the husband of the former Eula Gilchrist.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

An outdoorsman knows that, even on the darkest night, there is a little luminous quality that will permit him to see when his eyes are accustomed to it.

By this tiny bit of light, an experienced angler can approach his favorite weed bed, stop within casting distance of it, toss his plug to the edge of it, and entice the lunkers.

But he must be ready to react quickly.

You'll enjoy night fishing. Everything is still and quiet. There is just a little splash when your top water bait hits the water, and maybe a gurgle when you twitch it now and then. But you're never really ready when there comes a sound like a cow falling in the creek.

That's what it sounds like, in the still of night, when a lunker hits. It'll scare the living daylights out of you.

Your first thought is "careful"

You want to set the hook. But you also want to avoid unnecessary tension on the line.

I wouldn't worry too much about hook-setting when a big bass hits a topwater lure. Usually, he has tried to swallow the thing, or kill it, and is well hooked.

If he's not on when you start hauling the line, whit a minute. He may have simply smashed it with the idea of stunning the thing. Now! Move the lure slightly, from time to time . . . a light twitch now and then. If no strike, reel in slowly and cast again. He'll come back for dinner.

Night fishing demands that you be ready when the big bass strikes. Be sure he's hooked, then bring him in quickly. Don't let him wind your line around moss or a submerged tree . . . if you can help it. That's his life-saving trick. At the same time, don't apply so much tenison that you tear the hook out of his mouth.

It all sounds complicated . . . which it is. Also it involves judgment on your part. But in case of doubt, put on the pressure. When it's a bigmouth bass you're dealing with, you may have to horse him in. Don't give him any slack line - day or night.

What about night fishing for white bass?

Here's another fish that will take your lure at night. It's really his preferred feeding time. However the minnow is his favorite meal.

In the spring, whites migrate upstream and move out into the tributaries of large rivers and lakes, seeking shallow water for the spawning season.

Find the right place and you can lead the boat with white bass.

Yor are locking for a spot where there is a current and the bottom is sandy or rocky. A stream running into a lake is perfect. Or a river dam where power is generated, creating a swift tail race, will do very well. Otherwise locate a spot in the lake where a sand bar rises to 15 feet or less from the top.

Fish one of these locations in spring and summer, using minnows, spoons or jigs, and you will be rewarded with a fine string of sandies. Night fishing for whites in summer is a good and growing sport.

If you don't know where the white bass stay in summer, ask a fishing buddy, your friendly tackle shop man, or a good camp operator. You will learn that the white bass favor a certain area.

Go there at night, equipped with Coleman lantern, a bucket full of silver shiner minnows and patience to wait 'em out - and you'll have a full evening of fun.

You won't have much trouble finding the place, for other boats will be there too, with lanterns lighted. Often it looks like a small town on the water, as fishermen gather to bring in the white bass.

When you are anchored and ready, fire up the lantern. Use a reflector shield, if you have one, to direct the bright light onto the water and not in your face. Aluminum foil will serve temporarily.

This illumination will attract small flying insects and they inturn will attract shad, and shad will attract white bass. That's the theory - we won't argue with it. All we want to do is catch fish.

If the theory is based on truth, and it may wel lbe, we don't care how many other boatmen are in the place - the more the merrier, in fact. More lights, more insects, more shad, more white bass. when sandies congregate.

All you have to do, in this night fishing for white bass routine, is hook on a minnow, let it down to the proper depth, it's back in the boat, and relax. But watch your rod tip! These boogers strike like lightning - but lightly.

Night fishing for crappie is an exciting game too, particularly in the summer.

I've been on a lighted dock where all hands took their limit in the last hours before sun-up. Here again, we're minnow fishing.

However, crappie will react to other baits, such as cut bait, small spinners, and what have you.

Whether you go to a commercial lighted dock, or set out your own, you must have the lights for night fishing. Same principle applies to crappie as in night fishing for whites. The lights attract the fish - so if you're going for crappie, be equipped with a lantern.

FISH PARASITES

Parasite problems in the fish pond are best avoided by proper pond or lake management. A fish pond with ample food and unpolluted water is not likely to have significant disease or parasite trouble, says Wallace Klussmann, Extension specialist in wildlife conservation, Texas A&M University.

GUARD HER AGAINST FEAR

"He that is of a merry heart hath a continual feast."
—Proverbs 15:15

The youngster who is about to expore the world on the other side of the fence has about all that it takes for a "continual feast" and to make of her a healthy, useful citizen who will be a joy to know. But she can "catch" hate, worry, defeatism from people around her as quickly as she can catch the mumps or other infectious diseases. That old virus, fear, may burrow into her subconscious mind and remain for a lifetime. Furtunately she can also "catch" love, goodness and faith, for a merry heart.

Her parents can make use of a tired and true ally in training her to catch the right, to be a happy, rather than an unhappy person. The teaching of the Church is love, goodness and faith and the church of her parents' choice is the place to take her to "catch" them to help immunize her against hate and fear. And an additional reward is that the parents are exposed to the right influences for a continual feast also.

the BIGGER we get the easier we DEAL

This has been one of those years. Great. Buickwise, we mean. And no wonder. The 1965 crop of Buicks are all beautiful. They ride well, handle well. Buick engineers, you see, have a way of doing things that please people.

So what's this ad for? To brag about Buicks? No, sir.

We have something that'll interest you more. It's called how to get yourself a Buick the easy way.

Because we've had such a great sales year, we can make it easy. The easier we make it, the closer we'll come to breaking our all-time Buick sales record.

This goes for any Buick: Riviera, Electra 225, Wildcat, LeSabre, Skylark or Special. You name it — we'll deal.

It all adds up to this: If you'd really rather go first class, go Buick.

We'll make it worth your while.

Wouldn't you really rather go first class? Go Buick!

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"LAUGHING HEIRS"

The letter bore grim tidings: old Uncle Harvey had passed away. But as George read it, not a flicker of sorrow crossed his countenance. On the contrary, his only reaction was a whoop of delight at the news that he was the sole heir to $20,000.

George was not heartless. But the fact of the matter was that he and Uncle Harvey - actually, just a distant relative - had always disliked each other intensely. They had not even been on speaking terms for years.

The only reason the $20,000 was coming to George was that he was, technically, the next of kin. Since Uncle Harvey had never bothered to make a will, the law automatically gave his money to the next of kin.

Are such ironies common? So common, alas, that lawyers have a special phrase to describe people like George: "laughing heirs."

Each year, property worth billions of dolalrs must necessarity change hands because of death. When there is no will, this wealth is transferred according to the rigid formulas of inheritance.

Although these formulas do try to be fair, all they can do as a practical matter is to follow the lines of kinship. What may have mattered most to the deceased - the ties of friendship, a sense of gratitude, the promptings of charity - cannot be weighed by a court after he is gone.

An added mockery is that the more remote the kinship, the more costly it may be to track down the heir and settle his rights.

Some states have tried to foil the laughing heir by cutting off all claims beyond a certain degree of kinship. That may help in a particular case, but then again it may not. For even a relative who is close in terms of kinship may be undeserving in every other way.

The real answer is for the individual to express his wishes and his wisdom before he dies. If you don't like the thought of some ungrateful heir chuckling over your demise, you can prevent it simply by exercising your will power - your power to make a will.

Telephone Users To Save $35 Million

Telephone excise tax reductions which become effective January 1, 1966, will save Texas telephone users $35 million annually, according to Lee Carson manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Cameron.

Carson said: 'When the tax is completely eliminated in 1969, this annual savings will increase to $50 million.

"We are glad that Congress has passed and the President has signed this measure into law.

"We have long felt that these emergency taxes, which stemmed from war and depression, should be eliminated. The tax on telephone service was levied against what most people regard as a necessity, not a luxury.

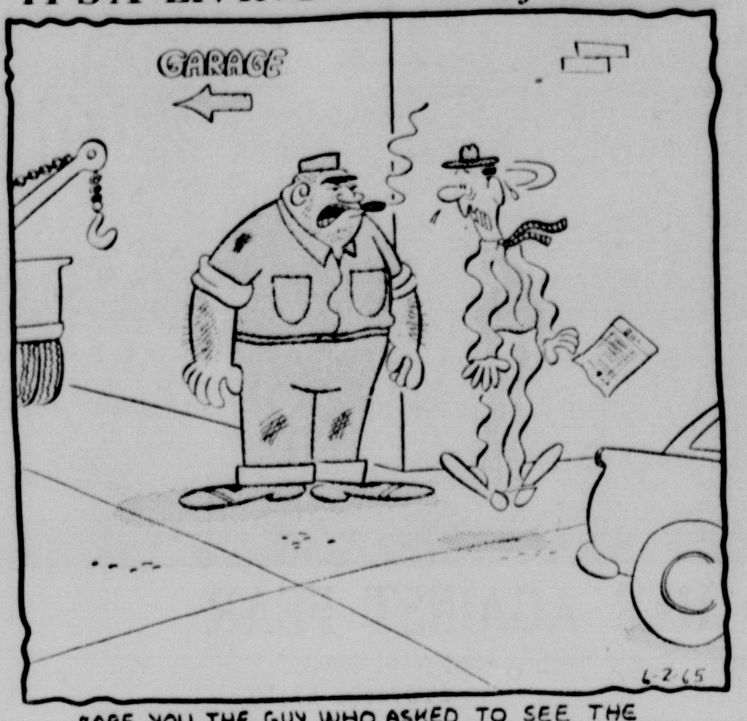
THE HERALD'S FAMILY CORNER

IT'S A LIVING --by Al Johns



"ARE YOU THE GUY WHO ASKED TO SEE THE 'FATHEADED JERK' THAT WORKED ON YOUR CAR?"

Nola Knows

By Nola White

Dear Nola - If a boy and girl don't get along before marriage, do you think they'll get along afterwards?

Welterweight

Dear Welterweight - Depends on what they were fighting about.

Dear Nola - I am 13 years old and Mother says I can't go with boys until I am 15 or 16. I'm in love with a boy 20 who is in the Army. Mother doesn't know it, of course. He tells me I'm silly to do what she says. Do you think it would hurt for me to go with boys and not tell her? Dad says I should go ahead and have fun.

Mixed Up

Dear Mixed Up - You're not the only one! Your Dad must have scrambled eggs for brains. And that boy in the Army - I hesitate to call him a soldier - is nothing but bad news! With all my heart, I hope you'll listen to your Mother. If you'll postpone dating until you are 15 or 16, you'll appreciate the privilege so much more. Self-denial is the cornerstone of good character building. But if you simply must date now, by all means, tell your Mother. You'll never have any self-respect if you slip around. But please pick boys nearer your own age, whether you start dating now or later. Tell G.I. Joe simply living 20 years doesn't make a man. At the rate he's going, it'll take another twenty!

Dear Nola - I have a friend who claims to be intelligent, but she giggles all the time. Do you think a person who is intelligent giggles?

Disgusted

Dear Disgusted - Giggling is a nervous habit, and plenty of smart people do that or worse. However, I've never met a really intelligent person who claims to be intelligent.

Personal to Twenty - If that's your age and not your dress size, you're not exactly a senior citizen yet. Be patient!

Personal to Scholar - Learning to live with your mistakes is one of life's greatest - and hardest - lessons.

Send your letters to Nola Knows, Box 411, Temple, Texas. For a personal reply, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Do You Maintain Your Self-Respect?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

The great Greek mathematician, Pythagoras, summed up the need for self-respect when he said, "Above all things, reverence yourself." This, however, is a broad statement. Psychologists give us some key factors which lead to our being comfortable and happy with ourselves. Would you answer the following questions "yes" or "no"?

	YES	NO
1. Do you enjoy flirtations or "affairs"?	( )	( )
2. Is your bank account often overdrawn?	( )	( )
3. Do you expect others to take care of all the chores?	( )	( )
4. Is your grooming at home as good (and appropriate) as when you go out?	( )	( )
5. Do you consult your doctor and dentist at regular intervals?	( )	( )
6. Do you usually feel proud of your accomplishments?	( )	( )
7. Do you guard the health and welfare of yourself, your family and your friends?	( )	( )
8. Do you take care of your personal belongings?	( )	( )
9. Are you polite and kind to children?	( )	( )
10. Do people, places and things genuinely interest you?	( )	( )

DESIRABLE ANSWERS: All should be YES except 1, 2 and 3.

SCORING: 8 to 10 correct: You are aware of the need for self-respect and work to develop and maintain it. As Lord Alfred Tennyson, the poet, said, "Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control, these three alone lead life to sovereign power."

4 to 7 correct: Your self-respect is a litttle shakey. Sometimes you like yourself, but often you envy others and hate to look at yourself in your mental mirror.

0 to 3 correct: Start with your outward appearance because it is the thing you can see. Next, do one thing for someone else to make him or her happy. Don't be modest. Brag (to yourself) about it. Find one thing that you can do better than anyone else—and do it. This does not have to be something big. It could be raising radishes or collecting stamps, but you will feel a pride that obviously is underdeveloped. "One self-approving hour whole years outweigh." (Alexander Pope, English poet).
